

About MyGermanCity.com

In the summer of 2007, Marcus Hochstadt envisioned a comprehensive online guide about Germany and its sheer number of pulsating cities, magnificent regions, and soothing corners. After months of contemplation, the pipe dream got a name, a design, and a home page.

Today, MyGermanCity.com is driven by a number of excellent people with a passion for the world's most beloved country, working eagerly to provide you with an extensive one-of-a-kind guide about it.

Curious? Take a look... :-)

- Marcus Hochstadt What has Marcus found? He forgot, but he's on a tireless worldwide hunt for the long forgotten. One day he may wake up (probably under a Bo-Tree, with a laptop) realizing he'd already found it decades ago. Who knows? Two things are crystal clear, though... Marcus is German (oops!), and he kicked off this frenzy.

- Lisa Keller Lisa was born & raised in Philadelphia, PA where life is shaped by the cheesesteak and soft pretzel. Before becoming a travel writer, she specialized in Middle Eastern and European travel for almost 20 years. Lisa and her husband now live in Florida with their quiet reserved daughter and 2 "would jump from the roof if you let them" sons.