

Landsberg District Offers Waterside Leisure And Romance

The Landsberg District features the Ammersee, Germany's sixth largest lake. It is a popular destination for water sports with picturesque towns spread out at intervals along its western shoreline.

Landsberg District Map

Towns & Villages in the Landsberg District

- Apfeldorf
- Denklingen
- Dießen am Ammersee
- Eching am Ammersee
- Egling an der Paar
- Eresing
- Finning
- Fuchstal
- Geltendorf
- Greifenberg
- Hofstetten

- Hurlach
- Igling

- Kaufering
- Kinsau
- Landsberg am Lech
- Obermeitingen
- Penzing
- Prittriching
- Pürgen
- Reichling
- Rott (Lech)

- Scheuring
- Schondorf am Ammersee
- Schwifting
- Thaining
- Unterdießen
- Utting am Ammersee
- Vilgertshofen
- Weil
- Windach
-
-

Noteworthy among these is the “triangle community” of Schondorf, Griefenburg and Eching at the north end of the lake. Here you can enjoy swimming, boating, cycling and hiking to your heart’s content.

From the port of Utting on the west shore, you can catch a sightseeing vessel and tour the lake while having brunch or an evening meal. Dancing to live music and gourmet cruises are also organized in season.

Toward the southern tip, you will come to the lake’s largest town, the health resort known as Dießen am Ammersee, surrounded by woods and moors. Stop here to take in museums, art collections, theaters, and 18th-century Baroque and Rococo churches.

West of the lake, you will come to the district seat of Landsberg am Lech. This romantic town combines Bavarian traditions with contemporary living, medieval walls with stylish cafés and bistros.

Further north up the Lech is the town called Kaufering, noted for its grotto-like spa and cosmopolitan performing arts, including opera, classic symphonies, ice follies, comedies and stage plays.

It is easy to see why so many vacationers come back again and again to the “feel good” Landsberg District.